Abraham's Children

North America Ramadan Screening Tour

During the month of Ramadan, August 12 through September 12, 2010 Abraham's Children, a documentary on Muslim Youth in America, will tour communities in America to start the conversation about cultural and religious respect and about Muslims in America. This will be an opportunity to not only understand who Muslims are and what Islam is about, but to reach out to your Muslim neighbors and co-workers and get to know them.

Islam is the fastest growing religion in the world, and in America. A new generation of young American Muslims is growing up in a post 9/11 world, to understand that they need to explain their faith in the hopes that other Americans will more fully understand and accept their practice of Islam.

Director and Producer Nina Froiep has crafted a 77 minute film that introduces four very diverse Muslim-American families from the greater New York area and their everyday lives as told through the eyes of the children in the film.

You are invited to join our North America Ramadan Screening Tour of Abraham's Children.

Act! Join the tour and help us in one (or both) of these ways!

Ramadan Tour Stop

From you: as hosting partners, we encourage you to pick a date and venue for your screening, invite local religious leaders and Muslims in your community to lead post-film discussions, and promote your screening among friends and neighbors. For pricing and further details see our application form on our website www.abrahamschildrendoc.com or contact us directly. The exhibition copy of the film provides your organization with the rights to show the film publicly, or to use the film as a fundraiser.

From us: in turn we will send you an Abraham's Children Ramadan Screening Kit that includes an exhibition copy of the DVD, promotional posters, take-action postcards and a viewer's guide to help jump-start the discussion, as well as e-mail templates to help you promote your screening locally.

Ramadan Tour Partner

From you: offer us your permission to use your organization's name and logo to help build momentum and drive interest in our month-long screening tour! We'd be honored to have your official commitment to publicize the tour, by reviewing the film on your blog or newsletter, and extending an invitation to join the campaign to your mailing list.

From us: in partnership, we'll display your organization's name and logo on our official Ramadan Screening Tour Publicity Materials, on our website and social network sites, and in our national press releases. In addition we'll send you free publicity materials, to help spread the word.

Contact: Teresa Pereira, our tour coordinator for more information and a hosting application.
