

Civil Liberties: Ten Years after 9/11

A commemorative and educational event

Featuring:

Prof. Eileen Kaufman, Touro Law School and local religious and civic leaders

Thursday, Sept. 8, 2011

6:30 p.m.

Touro Law School, 225 Eastview Drive , Central Islip

Food and beverages will be served

Join the Long Island Neighbors for American Values coalition in remembering the unspeakable losses suffered on that tragic day 10 years ago.

We'll reflect on the turbulent decade behind us, and recommit ourselves to the values that define our nation, including justice, equality and religious liberty.

Long Island Neighbors for American Values embraces the American constitutional rights of religious liberty and equality. We are a group of social justice organizations, religious and interfaith groups, educators, and individuals who stand together to respond to threats against our core values that are rooted in stereotypes and fear.

Questions? Email Suffolk@nyclu.org or call 631-650-2301